

Prof. Dr. phil Rouven Porz, dipl. biol. Adl

Institute of Medical Ethics,
University of Bern

Rouven Porz is Head of the Department of Medical Ethics and Continuing Medical Education at the University Hospital of Bern (Inselspital or Insel Group). He is also the past president of the European Association of Centres of Medical Ethics (EACME), former vice president of the Swiss Society for Biomedical Ethics (SGBE), and a visiting professor of medical ethics in Cluj-Napoca (Romania).

His undergraduate studies were in biology, philosophy, and education (Saarbrücken, Germany). He completed his doctoral dissertation at the Faculty of Philosophy in Basel (Switzerland).

Research opportunities have taken him to Geneva (Switzerland), Maastricht (Netherlands), and Newcastle upon Tyne (United Kingdom).

In 2025, he published (together with Prof. Dr. Ralf Jox, Lausanne) a non-fiction book about his professional experiences in the field of healthcare ethics. The book is titled When Things Get Serious and was published by Beck (Munich).