

Florian Scherer

Medical Doctor, Canton of Lucerne,
Specialist in Prevention and Public Health

Dr. Florian Scherer is a physician and public health professional currently working at the Canton of Lucerne. His work focuses on prevention and public health, including topics like domestic violence, health literacy, and integrative care. Florian holds an MD from the University of Münster and an Master of Science in Global Health from Karolinska Institutet in Stockholm. He completed his specialisation in public health at the Federal Office of Public Health (FOPH) and the Canton of Berne. He is board-certified in Prevention and Public Health medicine (FMH) and is committed to strengthening population health through interdisciplinary collaboration and science-based decision-making.